GOOD FAITH ESTIMATE DISCLAIMER

The Good Faith Estimate shows the costs of items and services that are reasonably expected for your health care needs for a surgery or service. The estimate is based on information known at the time the estimate was created. This Good Faith Estimate is not a contract and does not require you to obtain any of the items or services from any of the providers or facilities on the form.

The Good Faith Estimate does not include any unknown or unexpected costs that may arise during treatment. You could be charged more if complications or special circumstances occur. If this happens, federal law allows you to dispute (appeal) the bill. If you are billed for more than the Good Faith Estimate, you have the right to dispute the bill.

You may contact the health care provider or facility listed to let them know the billed charges are higher than the Good Faith Estimate. You can ask them to update the bill to match the Good Faith Estimate, ask to negotiate the bill, or ask if there is financial assistance available.

You may also start a dispute resolution process with the U.S Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). If you choose to use the dispute resolution process, you must start the dispute process within 120 calendar days (about 4 months) of the date on the original bill.

There is a $25 fee to use the dispute process. If the agency reviewing your dispute agrees with you, you will have to pay the price on the Good Faith Estimate. If the agency disagrees with you and agrees with the health care provider or facility, you will have to pay the higher amount.

To learn more and get a form to start the process, go to www.cms.gov/nosurprises or call 1-800-985-3059

For more questions or information about your right to a Good Faith Estimator and the dispute process, please visit www.cms.gov/nosurprises or call 1-800-985-3059.

Keep a copy of the Good Faith Estimate that is provided to you in a safe place or take a picture of it. You may need it if you are billed a higher amount.
